

Anthony Traversa

Anthony Traversa joined the Food For Life board of directors in 2011. He has nearly 3 decades of experience in business/ operations management including middle and senior management roles with Petro-Canada Products, UPI Energy LP and Clarion, Marketing and Communications. In addition, Anthony's current role with The Co-operators has added risk management and financial planning to his portfolio of skills and experience.

Anthony and his spouse (Julie) have three children and are active volunteers in their community. Most notably, Anthony has coached competitive hockey (boys and girls) for 17 years. In addition, he has served in a board capacity with several sports related associations. Through his work with The Co-operators Anthony also provides support to local non-profit organizations like the Burlington Community Foundation, Burlington Humane Society, Halton Cheshire Homes and others.